FROM THE DIRECTOR

Two new exhibitions celebrating Dayton's diversity begin the new year. The Dramatic Moment is a solo exhibition by Dayton artist Issa Randall that presents figures that emerge from layers of torn, burned and collaged paper to create a provocative statement on the power of images. Character Studies, our second Members' show of the season, includes selected works from all media that express the spirit of "character."

In addition, we continue to offer low-cost ways for artists to gain skills and build audience. Register for our "Get Your Work Online" workshop, mark your calendar for our "Getting in the Game" series and learn how DVAC Artists' Pages can help promote your work. Consider submitting a work of art for our Annual Art Auction or an exhibition proposal for an upcoming "Short Show" or just come by any Wednesday afternoon, meet me on the red couch, and let's talk art.

Happy New Year!

Eva Buttacavoli
Executive Director
